Plainfield Scholars Recognized for Accomplishments During Annual Superintendents' Roundtable Scholars Breakfast

Plainfield, N.J. – June 1, 2018 - Plainfield High School seniors from Barack Obama Academy for Academic & Civic Development (BOAACD), Plainfield Academy for the Arts & Advanced Studies (PAAAS) and Plainfield High School (PHS) were recognized today by the Union County Superintendents' Roundtable at the 33rd Annual Scholars Breakfast, in Berkeley Heights.

The students were among 21 school districts honored for their academic achievements. Sixty students received honors and were accompanied to the event by their families and school officials.

Plainfield schools' honorees were Janeida Waiters and Kenia Aragon who attend BOAACD, Jaylen Ross and Arianna Diaz, attend PAAAS, and Charles "Romey" Talley and Bryant Yancha-Pazmino, attend PHS.

Interim Superintendent of Plainfield Public Schools Ronald E. Bolandi and Principals Mr. Kevin Stansbury, Dr. Angela Bento and Dr. Heather Jackson joined interim Executive Union County Superintendent Juan Torres in honoring the students.

"We are fortunate to be here, this is not something every county in New Jersey does, and we are happy to be hosting our 33rd Annual Recognition Breakfast on behalf of all our students and their families," said Torres.

The students chosen for this honor are the Valedictorians and Salutatorians of their class, as well as distinguished students, who have excelled in their class and who will be continuing their education post high school at colleges, universities and trade schools.

Janeida Waiters and Kenia Aragon hope to continue their education at Rutgers University and Union County College, respectively. Janeida to study Psychology and Kenia medical assistance. Jaylen Ross will be attending New York School of Visual Arts where he will study Marketing and Graphic Arts, Arianna Diaz will be at the University of Tampa where she hopes to study
